DEGREES FOR SUCCESS

In today's world, computers are big business. From local entrepreneurs to corporate boardrooms, applying technology solutions to business problems is crucial. Information is a critical part of any organization, and an IT education can help you advance your technology career. The Herzing University Information Technology (IT) Programs were developed with employer and technology leader input to prepare you for a hi-tech career, combining theory with hands-on training in network administration, IT security, software development and telecommunications. With a unique focus on practical problem solving, management and leadership skills, a Herzing IT degree will help prepare you for success in today's and tomorrow's technology marketplace.

AS A HERZING TECHNOLOGY STUDENT, YOU CAN GAIN:

PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE

Students completing coursework in Atlanta, Madison, or New Orleans will have access to on-campus labs that are equipped with state-of-the-industry technology. Online students will have the ability to access virtual environments remotely and schedule time working with physical networking devices.

INDUSTRY CERTIFICATIONS

You'll earn more than a degree; you'll have opportunities to prepare for up to seven (7) sought-after industry certifications. Included in the cost of your tuition are the MCP, Security+ and CCNA exams. You will be eligible to receive vouchers for these three (3) certifications upon completion of related coursework and practice exams. You'll also have access to discounted pricing on many more certifications from providers like CompTIA and Microsoft.

INDUSTRY ACADEMY ALLIANCES

Herzing has developed hi-tech industry "Academy" affiliations that can provide you with extra learning resources, discounted certification exams and free software while in school.

We like to hire people that have a lot of hands-on experience, someone who can take a theory out of a book, read it, and understand it, but also can implement it... You want a candidate with great hands-on experience who can walk through the door and have extensive knowledge, you hire a Herzing grad."
